John grew up in a small town in Canada. He loved hockey and dreamed of one day playing in the NHL. However, John's dreams were almost shattered when he was diagnosed with a rare and debilitating disease. The doctors told him that he would never be able to play hockey again.

John was devastated. He didn't know what he would do with his life if he couldn't play hockey. But then, one day, John had a life-changing experience. He was at a hockey game when he saw a player score a hat trick. The player was so happy and excited that he couldn't help but smile.

John realized that even though he couldn't play hockey anymore, he could still find joy in the game.

John went on to become a successful coach and mentor. He now uses his story to inspire others to overcome adversity and find faith in God.
